Background:

Upon receiving notice in February 2018 of the impending expiration of the Specific Purpose Tax (SPT), the three governing bodies within Albany County initiated the process of placing the tax on the ballot for renewal.

On February 27 & March 5, City Council reviewed and discussed the process for renewal and a preliminary list of potential municipal projects to be funded through Specific Purpose Tax (SPT) monies. The list of potential projects was based upon direction contained within four primary sources: a) the adopted goals, b) city capital improvement plans, c) adopted budget, and d) city operational studies & needs analyses.

City Council met subsequently on two occasions in joint meetings with the Albany County Board of Commissioners and Rock River Town Council (March 8 & 28) to further discuss and negotiate the parameters of the SPT renewal. During these work sessions, the bodies reached agreement on an estimated $60 million SPT to pay for critical and essential needs within the communities and county, and determined the amount available for the projects of each of the three entities.

Upon renewal of the tax by the voters, the City of Laramie will receive $39.5M for infrastructure and community improvement projects. All three governmental entities agreed to contribute funds to the regional airport at an amount of $5.5 million (City of Laramie and Albany County will contribute an equal amount of $2.5M each and the Town of Rock River will contribute $500,000). Albany County's total projects will amount to $11.3M and the Town of Rock River's project will amount to $3.7M

Council held two additional special meetings (March 27 & April 10) with further discussion. Of note was the question of whether or not to include funding for aquifer protection. Council determined to add an aquifer protection project upon final review of the complete slate of projects April 10. The City's major street and storm water projects will be prioritized for Specific Purpose Excise Tax funding based upon the most recent a) assessment of paved sections of the municipal street system utilizing the PAVER Pavement Management Condition Index (PCI) to identify streets at or below the critical PCI value ($PCI \leq 50-65$), b) municipal assessment of the condition of unpaved/unimproved, dirt sections of the municipal street system, and c) assessment of the condition of municipal storm water drainage system set forth in Laramie's Storm Drainage Plans and in conjunction with street improvement projects. Council further

The City of Laramie will bond projects in the amount of $9.5M with general obligations bonds which is 4% of the City of Laramie's assessed valuation (W.S. 15-7-102 - 110).

The total with bonding is noted below:
